A Unicago Horer,-We find in the Obicago Journal, the following notice of a Chicago hotel, the truth of which we can verify from personal experience:

METROPOLITAN HOTEL.-This house, which has always been a favorite resort for the public, has recently changed hands and is now under the management of Mr. Skinner. The house has been put in complete repair, and is now among the best hotels in the city. Smith is yet in charge of the office, and as ever attentive and accommodating. Those who have been in the habit of stopping at this house, are unanimous in pronouncing it a first clas hotel and well worthy of the patronage it enjoys.

Soys or Malta Excursion .- We learn that the excursion of the Sons of Malta on the 21st will be a grand affile and from present appearances we should think that from 1500 to 2000 will embrace this opportunity of visiting Minnesota. The Chicago and North Western and Milwaukee & Mississippi Railroads are making overy preparation, and we have no doubt but what this proposed excursion will be the excursion of the season. The splendid steame s Milwaukee, Itasca and Northern Light are engaged for the trip, and will meet the excursion-Guard band will accompany the exenction.

The Jeffersonian says: - "There is now every reason to believe, that not withstanding our recent akopticism, we are destined to have railcoad facilities to this place; and that too, just as soon as men and money can complete of men are employed between here and Fort Atkinson. We visited the latter place yesterday, and walke lover a portion of the road in company with our friend, Ass. F. Suell, Esq., and it was antonishing to see the amount of grading that had been accomplished in that nection in the short space of twelve days, ourselves, at the cheering prospect which this road presents for the future of their thriving villaga."

MILWAUKER STREET BRIDGE .- The amount of the contribution raised Friday evening to repair the walks on Milwaukse street heldge was seven cents - James Sutherland contributing the full quota assetsed - a half dime-and Dr. R. INPROVED LETTER EXPELOPES .- The Wash goods ington correspondent of the New York Times writes that the improvement in the construction of stamped envelopes, ordered by the Postmaster Coneral, consists in the combination of black lines with the ordinary letter envelope, in such a manner as to render them visible only when the face and back of the envelope are pressed by the hand at the time of superscrip tion, and the pressure being removed or the letter inserted, the lines disappear. This is effeeted by ruling with printers ink the inside of the under wing, which is first folded. Over this the side wings are folded, preventing the lines from showing through the back. It in volves a very slight change in the construction of the envelope. The under wing of the new envelope approaches nearer the form of a purallelogram than that of the one now in use, while the side wings extend lower down.— When all the wings are folded the lines are completely masked, and when the letter is inserted, ballle the most critical inspection to disthemselves of the lines can put it in the letter, thoso who wish them can write the superscrip-

ISFORMATION FOR THE SMOKERS.—Meerschaum (a Greek word signifying sea foam) is a mineral compound of magnesia and sand, and is found chiefly in Greece. It occurs in beds, and when first dug up is soft, greasy, and lathers like soap. The Tartars use it in washing their clothes. The celebrated tobacco pipes are made both in Turkey and Germany. They are first fashioned from the soft substance, boiled in all and tallow, and then in wax, afterwords baked, and finally polished. It is doubtful whether the "Meerschanns" now so extensively patronized by our nirish young gentlemen are of genuine growth, but we presume that this is a question of little moment, so long as they color according to contract.
